Profile

I worked as SAP Basis Consultant at Cognizant Technologies, and possess 3 years of experience .Trained in SAP SD as well . After careful consideration I am willing to change my domain . I found web development very fascinating , and I quickly started learning web development in python , Django framework. Once I gained enough knowledge I started working on projects that helped me research and learn more in-depth about Django . As I got a hold of Web development, I also wanted to learn about the user experience of a website or app.I have done courses on UX/UI Design and created few Designs . Looking forward to work in an result-oriented organization to learn , grow and contribute to the organization.
